TOWN OF HAMILTON PROCLAMATION
Inova Loudoun Hospital's 100 Year Anniversary 1912 to 2012

WHEREAS, 2012 marks the 100th Anniversary of Inova Loudoun Hospital, and

WHEREAS, Inova Loudoun Hospital first opened as Leesburg Hospital on June 5, 1912 in a rented house on Market Street in Leesburg, and in 1917 due to the response to the rapid growth in Loudoun County, a new facility with expanded services was built at a new location on Cornwall Street, and

WHEREAS, Loudoun Hospital Center, continuing its efforts to meet the healthcare needs of a growing county in 1997 moved to the current Lansdowne campus, and continuing its commitment to Loudoun County with the opening of the Cornwall Emergency Department in 2003 and its merger with Inova Health Systems in 2005. And in July 2011, Inova Loudoun announced a two-year $32 million redevelopment project for the Inova Loudoun Medical Campus Leesburg (formerly known as Cornwall) which includes major upgrades in patient convenience, access to technology and building design, and

WHEREAS, Inova Loudoun Hospital continues to give back to the community through various initiatives, wellness programs and support of charitable organizations, remaining committed to serving our diverse community through the expansion of services and facilities in locations that promote better access to healthcare for all the citizens of Loudoun County.

THEREFORE, The Town Council of Hamilton, Virginia proclaims its commitment to Inova Loudoun Hospital by celebrating Inova Loudoun Hospital's 100th Jubilee in 2012 and urges all residents to share in the celebration.

PROCLAIMED this 14th day of May 2012.
